LITTLE CHEF IVY

As a budding chef with big opportunities on the horizon (Masterchef Junior contestant) Ivy and her parents were ready to launch her new website. They enlisted Lisa, owner of Paper Daisies Stationery, to help them in creating a logo and overall brand identity.

Knowing that Ivy was just 11 at the time, Lisa went with a more whimsical approach to the overall design. Using a photo she was able to create an image of Ivy for the logo and added in her signature fedora hat. She used bold colors to match Ivy's big personality and she mixed in a loose script to to mimich a younger handwritten quality.

WERDESHEIM LAW FIRM

Pete Werdesheim of Werdesheim Law Firm was in the process of forming his own company when he reached out to Paper Daisies for help with a logo. Through a series of Q&A we learned what was important to Pete - not only his preferences but also what he wanted to project as a new owner. We also took a look at the local market.

We designed the logo and typeface using a deep navy color. We added in a hint of copper for a rich contemporary feel while maintaining a solid foundation with the square shape and block fonts. Along with a logo we designed an announcement, business cards, letterhead and note cards.
